REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Members of School Board:—

This report, the first made by your present superintendent, covers the year ending August 31, 1920, and includes organization and attendance, instruction, extension activities, buildings and equipment.

Organization and Attendance

The school year opened with two changes in the staff of teachers. Mrs. Marion S. Fogg was elected teacher in the school at the Mills. Miss Ruth M. Boyle, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, was appointed teacher in the school at the North. Within the month, Miss Boyle was called by the severe illness of her mother to Butte, Montana. Miss Julia E. Todd was appointed as substitute and later elected to complete the school year. Miss Dunbar was the only teacher remaining from the previous year. The following is a complete list of licensed teachers employed in the schools:

Table 1—Teachers 1919-1920

Name	School	Credential	Previous Experi- ence	Salary Annual Rate
Abigail L. Dunbar	South	License	21 years	$504.00
(Mrs.) Marion Story Foss		License	5 years	$648.00
	Mills
Julia E. Todd	North	License	8 years	648.00

A school year of thirty-six weeks was maintained at the North and South. By provision of the Mary J. Eaton Fund, there were thirty-seven weeks of school at the Mills.

Roll of Perfect Attendance, 1919-1920

Abigail Cass, Ellsworth Cass, William Chadwick.

Instruction

Particular attention was given in the first four grades to the subject of reading. The ability to read readily and comprehendingly is the key to promotion in these grades and is essential to the enjoyment and profit derived by the child from the work in all grades. In addition to more formal reading emphasis has been placed on the silent reading of even a larger list of books and on the training of the child to accurately and in correct language reproduce the content of the printed page. This serves the double purpose of facility in reading and of applied language training. Some excellent results were secured from this work. Standard scale tests in reading, prepared by Professor Adams of the Plymouth Normal School, were given in all eight grades both at the mid-year and again in June. The highest average rating in both speed and comprehension was made by the sixth and seventh grades.

In the fifth and sixth grades in addition to the study of early American history much time was given to the earlier racial history of the peoples contributing to modern civilization.

Arithmetic in the primary grades was taught principally from the blackboard and without the use of textbooks or answer lists. For the moral value of the pupil's self-reliance and habits of accuracy simple proof methods of checking results were taught and insisted upon.

Formal spelling was taught in all grades above the second.

Thrift and patriotism as civic duties were interpreted through classroom exercises, current history and biography, care and economy in the use of school materials, the purchase of Thrift and War Savings stamps, and participation in the public observance of Memorial Day. The schools were supplied with new music books which added much to the interest and success derived from the music periods. Particularly good progress in two-part music reading was made by the pupils at the North.

Extension Activities

First among these, I wish to mention the medical inspection of the pupils and teachers, made by Dr. William P. Clough. Fully as important as the inspection is the follow up work. This is not included in the duties of the inspecting physician. During the long summer vacation the largest number of corrective treatments can usually be secured. It is during these summer months as well as during the school year that the services of a school nurse may be made of particular value to both the parents and children. The need of follow up work is shown by the following table:

Table 3—Report of Medical Inspection, 1919-1920

Through the generosity of the community club and of other public spirited residents equipment and materials were provided for making hot cocoa or a hot soup to supplement the cold lunches brought by the pupils during the winter term. Effort should not be spent in the preparation of an elaborate lunch. One supplementary dish well prepared and containing a large proportion of milk adds much to the physical and mental efficiency of the children in numerous cases. The superintendent wishes to express to the community club and other interested residents his appreciation and that of the teachers and pupils.

Buildings and Equipment

The schoolhouses at the South and at the Mills are in good repair. The lighting facilities can be much improved. This can be done at the South by the use of some lighter color on the walls and ceiling and by placing the desks at a slight angle thus utilizing the light from the rear windows. The problem at the Mills is more difficult because of the unusual width of the room. However, much improvement could be secured here by painting the walls and ceiling a very light color.

The schoolhouse at the North has better lighting facilities than the others. Because of shortage of labor this building was not repaired and repainted during the summer. This is the only school building in use that is not equipped with individual desks and chairs. As early as possible provision should be made for adjustable chairs and desks of the same type as those now used by the other schools in town.

In none of these schoolrooms is there a suitable desk for the teacher's use. Both economy and efficiency would suggest that this new equipment be provided.

Conclusion

In conclusion, I wish to thank the citizens, teachers and school board for helpful support and loyal co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. HARMON,
Superintendent of Schools.
